DAMON AND PYTHIAS
IS MIGHTY DRAMA

A finished production is the opinion of those who have seen the first dress rehearsals of the new "Damon and Pythias" show to be given at the Edison theater, Wednesday evening, under the auspices of Phoenix lodge No. 2, Knights of Pythias. Every preparation is complete for staging the big production. Thirty people under the direction of Charles Ellis, veteran actor and producer, will present the modern version for the first time before a Phoenix audience.

In November the grand lodge will meet in this city and the proceeds from "Damon and Pythias" will go towards entertaining that body. The beautiful Grecian costumes and stage equipment will arrive from Los Angeles tomorrow. The presentation of the play is entirely out of the ordinary, and far beyond the average local production. Every Pythian is familiar with the beautiful dramatic story of Damon and Pythias, and various phases of the drama are enacted in the secret work of the order. Any Knight can take a part at a minute's notice, and when he enacts that role in the public presentation of the play, it is not new to him, for he has been doing the same thing for years in the lodge.

Eight hundred thousand Knights in the United States and Canada love the old Greek heroes, whose friendship was something more than an empty name.

To see the story presented in the new "Damon and Pythias" makes one forget the common affairs of every day life, as the high purposes and noble acts of the two Greeks of ancient Syracuse are so graphically portrayed.

PROHIBITION SPEAKERS GIVE ADDRESSES TO CONGREGATIONS

Speaking before two large church audiences here yesterday, J. Frank Hanly, nominee of the prohibition party for the presidency, again set forth the issues on which that party is entering the campaign that ends in November.

Mr. Hanly, rested from his strenuous effort of the night before, when he talked to over a thousand persons in the Y. M. C. A. tennis courts, made splendid addresses, one to the congregation of the Baptist church at eleven and the other at the Methodist church half an hour later. To the latter, he said in part:

"Let us hear the witnesses. Take the oath and tell these people who you are.

"I am the voice and soul of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, convened in Saratoga last May. I speak for it—for the 500 men and women who constituted it, and through them for the four million Methodists of America and the world.

"I am speaking, what have you to say of the character of this traffic and of its effect upon the American people and American institutions?"

"It is the most prolific cause of insanity, crime and poverty; the most insidious despoiler of legitimate business; the most corrupt and demoralizing influence in politics, and the most dangerous enemy to human welfare in all our civil life.

"Statesmanship, ecclesiastical and civil, has denounced it; science has condemned it; business is arraying itself against it; politics is struggling to be freed from its grasp; labor seeks escape from its degrading merciless bondage, and the embattled nations of half a world find it a more deadly foe than any they have met on any war's red fields.

"The whole license system is a colossal blunder, wrong in principle, got their start in a business way by the 'Lightning Rod' agents through the east and middle western states twenty and thirty years ago. The lightning rod agent was particularly an American institution, so much so that the adventures and honors of the occupation brought forth the master play of American rural life, 'The Lightning Conductor.' It is on this that the picture has been based, and so splendid an artist as Dustin Farnum chosen to lead the vanguard of the stars that appear in the picture. There is humor and pathos and thrills all in the five reels. The picture was taken in the most beautiful scenery imaginable and as near the conditions represented in the play and book as it was possible to make them, were fitted around the picture. Tomorrow the treat of this week will be shown when the five reel masterpiece 'The Soul's Cycle' featuring Margaret Gibson will be the attraction.

"Don't run away from the recitation of troubles. Absorb every detail of the story, no matter how tedious the speaker may become, and the chances are nine out of ten that you will hear the nucleus of a photoplay."

Such is the sound advice imparted by inspiring writers to the least authoritative than C. Gardner Sullivan, the genius who has been responsible for the literary excellence of a majority of the Triangle-Ince screen dramas. He was accused to discuss the subject by "The Payment," in which Bessie Barriscale is starred, and he cited this play as an illustration of his theories.

"I attended a social function at Pasadena not long ago," declared Sullivan, "and during the evening I met a celebrated painter of miniatures. She was beautiful and talented, but she had a penchant, it seemed, for taking newly-made acquaintances over to the corner of the room and resurrecting her rather unpleasant past. Perhaps it was for sympathy; perhaps out of sheer desire of habit. I asked. And she told me of her shattered love affair; how in her young womanhood she had exchanged her honor for a chance to study painting; how, later, she earned entrance into society circles; how she fell in love with her benefactor's brother, and he with her; and how marriage was frustrated by grim realization of the unhappy past. Those were the threads of a life tragedy. I took them and around them weaved 'The Payment.' And I think it is one of my strongest plays."

Daredevil Kate at the Lamara

The story of a woman's rise from proprietor of a small saloon in the west to wife of an eastern clubman is told in William Fox's new picture which features Virginia Pearson, "Daredevil Kate."

The workmen at Devil's Gap are dissatisfied with the treatment they receive from their eastern headquarters, so they cause trouble which results in the bringing to their town of several easterners. One of these is Cliff Stone, another is Irene West. Stone is John West, Irene's husband. Stone and West are to take over the management of the western works of the company. Kate at first takes sides with the new arrivals, for she has fallen in love with Cliff Stone. But Irene's unwarranted interference in their romance turns her against the intruders, and she decides to help the miners, and not the managers.

When the whole plan is about to reach its climax and Kate is about to expose to the owner of the mine just how easily she can control his eastern employees, she discovers that Irene is her own sister, from whom she had been separated years before. So she turns the tables on the miners, holds them up to ridicule instead of the men they had been plotting against, and establishes West and Stone firmly with their company.

Incidentally, she agrees to marry Cliff Stone.

Col. Allen T. Bird, editor of the Nogales Oasis, and Capt. L. W. Mix, mayor of Nogales, met here last night, the former from Globe and the latter from the south, and today they go on to Prescott to attend the meeting Tuesday of the State Board of Trade. They bear with them the silver service for the battleship "Arizona," which will be exhibited in the north, then returned to Phoenix and shown here, probably late in the week.

Other Nogales visitors who arrived last night are H. Gordon Glor, Richard Farrell and Joseph Collier, who will attend the meeting of the democratic state central committee at the state house today.

SPORTING NEWS

ALUMNI AND HIGH SCHOOL GETTING READY FOR FRAY

The Alumni held a windy session at the Ford Soda Shop yesterday, over who are to be members of the veteran eleven. Veterans with silver locks responded to call to make the game possible. They argued that age made no difference. One alumnus was present who had three sons who are now playing on the high school varsity.

Bill Corpestein wishes every grad to be present at the high school training quarters in old clothes ready for battle. Julian Ganz and Pat Hurley were in a heated discussion as to who was to be manager of the "water receptacle." Ganz won.

The members of the alumni who will try out for the respective places on this team are: Marlar, Brooks, Taylor, Luke, Ellis, Gleason, Corpestein, Gear, Peters, Teal, Walters, Osborn, Evans, Galpin, Vincel, Halderman and Thoman. Much enthusiasm has been aroused over this game, and both high school and alumni are "rarin' to go. This game promises to be one of the most sensational games of the season.

And High School Too

Coach Geary gave the huskies a splendid workout Saturday, featuring the first scrimmage of the year. The varsity went through the practice like a clock. They put the pig skin between the goal in the first three minutes of play. Passes were forwarded from one end of the field to the other. A powerful kick sent the oval far over the athletic field. Prospects were never so bright in P. H. S. The dark dreary shadows of gloom without a drop cast themselves over the alumni team. It is a sure thing that the mighty alumni will fall humbly defeated at the victorious feet of the coyotes. There will not be the test in the southwest that will be in their class.

In a line plunge they could with ease move the rock of Gibraltar. Although the team is light, it has the speed, and will play their opponents off their feet.

Since the game between P. H. S. and Winslow has been called off, negotiations have been completed for a game with Prescott high. It has always been more than a pleasure for P. H. S. to meet Prescott on the gridiron, as they are the pluckiest and the best sportsmen in the state. Prescott has always given Phoenix a fast game and no doubt will make a far more interesting game than Winslow.

A very urgent plea is being made to the parents of all high school boys, requesting and urging them to allow their sons to take part in the football activities. As long as football has been played in P. H. S., there has not been one serious or fatal accident under the supervision of Coach Geary. Coach Geary wishes to meet every single lad with an exception tonight at the training quarters. Those who have had no previous knowledge, are requested to be there irrespectively.

KIBBEY NAMED ON COMMITTEE ON IRRIGATION LAW BY CONGRESS

(Special to The Republican)
EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 24.—Owing to the importance of the legal questions which will come before the International Irrigation Congress for discussion and action when the congress meets in El Paso, Texas, on October 14 to 18 next, President R. F. Furges has believed it necessary to name a special committee on legislation to which all questions of a legal nature will be submitted.

The committee is made up men who have familiarized themselves with the questions which have arisen and are constantly arising in those sections of the country where irrigation is practiced most extensively, and who, because of their familiarity with the subject should be best qualified to advise the delegates to the convention.

The members of the special committee are as follows:
Arizona—Joseph H. Kibbey, Phoenix.
California—Frank Freeman, Wilcox.
Colorado—James W. McCreary, Greeley.
Idaho—Ernest Anderson, Parma.
Kansas—A. A. Gooddard, Topeka.
Montana—Fred Whiteside, Kalispell.
New Mexico—H. B. Holt, Las Cruces.

North Dakota—Edwin A. Palmer, Williston.
Oregon—Percy Capper, Salem.
Texas—R. L. Batts, Austin.
Utah—Frederick Steigmeyer, Salt Lake City.
Washington—L. M. Rice, Seattle.
Canada—J. S. Dennis, Calgary.
Committee men from Nebraska, Nevada, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Wyoming will be named as soon as president Furges can hear from the men in those states with whom he has been in correspondence as to their acceptance of the appointment tendered. The position will be no sinecure, and only those men who have the time to give the work which will devolve upon them will be given place upon this committee. Much good is expected from the meeting of this committee at the irrigation congress in connection with future water legislation.

DENVER IN FOURTH

DENVER, Sept. 24.—Denver clinched fourth place in the closing game of the season here today by defeating Des Moines, 4 to 3. The visitors' defeat cost them first division honors.

Score: R. H. E.
Des Moines 020 000 010—3 9 1
Denver 002 011 00x—4 8 1
Batteries: Musser and Breen, Rigby; Ford and Sestak.

FERRY BOAT SINKS
[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 24.—The Lake Washington steamer Triton, owned by the Anderson Steamboat company, and engaged in ferry service, struck a snag while approaching Dyers Landing on the east shore of Lake Washington today and sank just as she was driven on to the beach. All the passengers and crew were landed safely.
